Get Ready. A New Qlik Learning Experience is Coming!

The new Qlik Learning a single, integrated learning platform designed to enhance your learning experience and help you get the most out of Qlik.

We are thrilled to announce that the new Qlik Learning launched on February 17, 2025.

What is coming?

- A new Qlik Learning experience, consolidating the current Qlik Continuous Classroom and Talend Academy platforms into one integrated learning platform
- An unlimited Qlik Learning subscription designed to energize your learning experience, accelerate your success, and help you grow your skills and expertise throughout your career

What can I expect with the new Qlik Learning experience?

- Gain hands-on Qlik Analytics and Data Integration experience in one spot with a single sign-on
- Discover easy-to-follow learning journeys that are designed for you
- Attend live webinars delivered on a regular basis on a variety of advanced topics
- Access an extensive library of Qlik Learning Shorts. These short videos show you exactly how and why to perform common tasks, so you get it right the first time, every time
- Use Qlik Certification resources and earn digital badges to help further your career and set new records for continuous learning
- While we work to offer translations in 14 languages as a convenience to their learning experience, we will launch with English only content

General Questions

What is included in my subscription to the new Qlik Learning?

If you have an active subscription to Qlik Continuous Classroom or an unlimited Talend Academy subscription, your subscription will be updated to the new Qlik Learning unlimited subscription, which means you will have access to both Qlik Analytics and Data Integration learning content. Please note this doesn't include instructor-led course materials.

Will all existing content still be accessible on the new platform?

Yes, existing content will be available. If you are a Qlik Continuous Classroom subscriber, you will now have additional access to Qlik Data Integration content. If you are a Talend Academy subscriber, you will now have additional access to the Qlik Analytics library of content and learning resources.

Will the URLs to the course content change?

Yes, URLs to specific QCC modules will change. See Course Link Mapping Sheet we have prepared for you.

Will live webinars still be available?

Yes, as part of a Qlik Learning subscription, you can enjoy the benefit of access to live webinars delivered on a regular basis on a variety of advanced topics above and beyond content offered in our self-paced learning. You can access Live webinars through the top navigation under Events.

Will hands-on training environment be provided?

Yes, Qlik Learning will provide access to configured environments for hands-on training.

Getting Started

How do I get started and what resources are available to me?

Once Qlik Learning is live, simply log in to Qlik Learning with your Qlik account (Don't have an account? Sign up) and complete the short Getting Started Course.

How can I navigate and find the content I am looking for?

Complete the short Getting Started Course. This will unlock the full range of opportunities available to you including how to navigate, find the content you are looking for, create a plan, or track learning progress within Qlik Learning. Additionally, after finishing the course, you'll earn a digital badge that you can showcase with your network!

Subscription Management

Will administrators be able to manage subscriptions in Qlik Learning?

Yes, subscription administrators will continue to be able to manage subscriptions. The Qlik Learning Admin Portal allows subscription administrators to invite, view, and manage all subscriptions associated with their account. Individual subscribers will not be able to manage subscriptions from this portal.

See the Learning Admin Guide for more information related to Qlik Learning Administrators.

Qlik Academic Program

Will Academic Program students and educators continue to have access to Qlik Learning content?

Yes, active students and educators in the Academic Program will continue to have access to Academic Program-specific content as well as Qlik Analytics and Qlik Data Integration self-paced learning content.

Will Academic Program users continue to have access to Qualification Exams?

Yes, Academic Program users will continue to have access to Qualification Exams and Data Literacy Certification Exams. After learning Qlik Sense and data literacy skills, put your knowledge to the test! Pass a qualification and boost your resume with a certificate and digital badge to share on social websites.

See the What do I need to do to get prepared? section on prior year Qualification Exam badges.

How will I access Academic Program course content?

Once logged into Qlik Learning, click Topics in the top right-hand corner and select Academic Program.

Qlik Learning and Data Literacy Private Learning Customers

Will I continue to have access to the Private Learning page?
